Introduction

VoxelSpace's spatial lambdas are serverless functions that execute custom computations on your volumetricdata. They run near your data on highly parallel infrastructure, allowing you to process trillions of voxels inminutes. This guide explains what spatial lambdas are, when to use them, how to write and execute them, and bestpractices for efficient processing.

---

Revision #2
Created 21 October 2025 14:59:13 by admin
Updated 21 October 2025 14:59:54 by admin